

How To:

Allow Pop Ups

When you are ready to join the training click the green “Join the Webinar” button.

Please note that your browser may prevent the Zoom link from opening. If you notice on the top part of my webpage, you’ll see that Firefox is preventing this site from opening a popup window.

If you click the options button, you can see a variety of options to allow the pop up. This will take you straight to the Zoom link where you can launch the meeting.

You will be waiting in the waiting room until the trainer lets you into the training.
